

World Mental Health Day (10th October)

A break-time event raised awareness about mental health in the workplace. Students shared self-care tips, bookmarks, and affirmations, while an open mic session encouraged discussions on wellbeing practices.

The event fostered conversations, reduced stigma, and emphasized that mental health matters.